

SUMMARY

As a Web Developer, my goal is to build user-friendly, visually appealing, and high-performing web applications. I specialize in developing scalable solutions using ASP.NET Core (MVC) with Entity Framework, and I have hands-on experience with both relational (MySQL, SQL Server, PostgreSQL) and NoSQL (MongoDB) databases. I leverage modern frontend technologies including HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and other markup languages to deliver intuitive and responsive user experiences tailored to client requirements.
